

To achieve a successful career in today's competitive global economy quality does matter.

With the largest Co-op Education program in the New York metropolitan area, Pace provides you with the tools to apply classroom learning in a pre-professional work environment.

Each year, more than 500 employers recruit Pace graduates—from the arts and sciences, computer science, education, law, and nursing—for professional positions through our campus interview program and Career Fairs.

Our professional counselors and more than 500 alumni volunteers are dedicated to assisting our students and alumni with career and networking opportunities.

Listed among the nationally ranked colleges and universities in U.S. News & World Report's "America's Best College Guide 2004," Pace University offers distinctive educational strengths and an impressive array of opportunities designed to enhance the personal and professional growth of every Pace student.
