

Our Most Powerful Resource is Our People.

For almost a century, GM has been re-thinking, re-inventing and re-introducing ground breaking vehicles to a world in which needs can change almost overnight. Behind this remarkable track record there lies one constant...the people. We encourage the contributions of college students through our ongoing commitment to GM's Cooperative Education and Intern Programs, where participants from diverse backgrounds gain valuable professional experience and inside-track access to future full-time employment opportunities.
