

Picture this: a company where individuals from every background are encouraged to come together – and create a team whose innovations truly stand apart. Where student employees get a chance to gain valuable experience and insight in "real world" internships and co-op experiences.

Consider it done, at Unisys, where our student employment program provides high-potential students from leading colleges and universities with exposure to innovative technology and networking.

Outstanding opportunities exist for students:

- Cooperative education programs
- Student internship programs
